

Key speaker event 'Carbon, cost and consumers'

17:00-21:00, Thursday 11 March 2010

The Royal Society, 6-9 Carlton House Terrace, London SW1Y 5AG

In 2010, energy and the role of the major UK energy companies will continue to be pivotal both to our economy and to our well-being and future as individuals. At this event, we have the honour of hearing from and debating with Dr Paul Golby; listening to his perspectives on the challenges facing the energy suppliers and the impact this may have in the future.

As part of this H-I Network event, being held at the Royal Society, we will also have opportunity to discuss and network with senior executives from member organisations such as Akzo Nobel, BAE Systems, Boots, BP, Carbon Trust, EDF, GlaxoSmithKline, Health Protection Agency, McLaren, National Grid, NESTA, Ordnance Survey, Philips, Procter & Gamble, QinetiQ, SEEDA, Shell, Sony, Technology Strategy Board, Unilever and our latest member, Vodafone.

Dr Paul Golby Chief Executive, E.ON UK plc

Following a series of management appointments with Dunlop and BTR, Dr Golby joined the Board of the 'mini conglomerate' Clayhithe plc in 1992. Joining East Midlands Electricity in 1998, he became Chief Executive of E.ON UK (formerly Powergen) in 2002. Since that time, he has steered E.ON through two multi-billion pound acquisitions to a £8.5 billion turnover organisation employing 17,000 people.

He is a member of the Executive Committee of E.ON AG, one of the world's largest investor-owned power and gas company and is the Chairman of AEA Technology plc. Dr Golby is a frequent commentator on the UK Government's scientific and energy policy. He is a fellow of the Royal Academy of Engineering, the Institution of Engineering and Technology, the Institution of Mechanical Engineers, and the Energy Institute.

He was awarded an honorary degree from Aston University in 2007 and Cranfield University in 2008 and appointed Pro Chancellor of Aston University and Chair of Council in January 2009.
